FREE FAMILY TICKETS FOR NANTWICH SHOW UP FOR GRABS!

Cheshire farmers can win family tickets (worth £35 each) for Nantwich Show simply by signing up for a resource audit or nutrient management plan through the Northwest Livestock Programme before 16 July 2010.

Resource audits assess energy saving and renewable energy opportunities on farms while nutrient management plans include 10 soil samples and analysis from a qualified consultant.

“These can result in significant savings,” says Promar International consultant Tim Harper, who has carried out a number of assessments for the Northwest Livestock Programme. “If these assessments include recommendations for capital investment, farmers may be eligible to apply for grants through the Programme”.

Resource audits and nutrient management plans are subsidised by the Northwest Livestock Programme and are available for £150 + VAT each.

Three family tickets are available for Nantwich Show on Wednesday 28 July 2010. Entries will be drawn on 19 July from all eligible payments for a resource audit or nutrient management plan received between 25 May and 16 July. No cash alternative or other prize is available.
